Collaboration Feedback Presentation Activity:
Upload your "medium" and "hard" tasks to GitHub, put them both in the same website so we can access it directly from your homepage. Please note: you must complete all three activities to receive full marks.

Easiest: _/3

This is a pass/fail mark. If you participate in our activity you will pass! Group will explain game instructions, you are to tell the class one piece of feedback your partner gave you and what you think is wrong with their answer. (Were they too agreeable? Too defensive? Did they seem uninterested? etc.

Medium: _/3
Give three pieces of feedback to our group based on our presentation using collaboration feedback methods. The feedback can be positive or negative, you won't lose marks for having negative comments. Just don't call us names….

Reminder-
Giving Collaborative Feedback:
1. Choose your method of communication.
2. Condense your thoughts.
3. Be clear, specific, and honest.
4. Be respectful and professional.
5. Don't give feedback for the sake of feedback.

Hard: _/6

Company: Chicken Mingle
Description: Chicken Mingle is a dating website for chickens. Chicken Mingle is currently in the process of redesigning their website. Unfortunately, the designers and the programmers cannot see eye to eye and they're constantly butting heads. Due to their unproductive behaviour, both parties were fired! We have already hired our programmer and they started a design alone however, we need your design specialties to collaborate with the programmer to make Chicken Mingle the best it can be!

Instructions:
Download the website .PSD from Nicole's repo. Using collaboration feedback techniques, write three pieces of feedback based on design flaws you notice in the lay out. Then take the feedback you have given and apply it to the design in order to improve it in at least 4 different ways. Minimum changes you can make are 4 for full marks, make 6 changes. Anything in the .PSD is fair game to change if you believe it will improve the overall design of the website.

Reminder of how to successfully provide collaboration feed back:

BAD: "The colour scheme of the website is really ugly, I kinda hate it."

BETTER: "I think pink may work with that light purple, better than the neon green."

BEST: "Our site is targeted towards female children, so a different background colour, such as pink, would increase attractiveness for our audience."
